CUBA AGAIN A REPUBLIC

American Occupation of the Island Ceases.

TAKES THE OATH OF OFFICE

Jose Miguel Gomez Inaugurated President at Havana—American Warships Fire Presidential Salute in Honor of New Executive—With the Departure of Governor Magoon the Authority of the United States Ends.

Havana, Jan. 28.—With the administration of the oath of office at noon today to Jose Miguel Gomez, the new president of the republic of Cuba, American occupation of the island ceased and the history of this country entered on a new era. This afternoon Charles E. Magoon, until today provisional governor of Cuba, will embark for the United States, leaving the government entirely in the hands of President Gomez and his advisers. Most of the 5,000 American soldiers who have occupied the island since 1906 have been sent home and the remainder will leave by April 1.

The oath of office was administered to President Gomez and Vice President Zayas by President Barreiro of the supreme court of Cuba in the presence of a great throng of Cubans and Americans and other foreigners. Today is a general holiday throughout Cuba and from all the six states men prominent in the political, commercial and social life of the island have gathered to attend the inauguration. The principal officers of the American troops still in Cuba, reinforced by the officers of the American warships in the harbor, made a brave showing in their dress uniforms. The inauguration ceremonies were preceded by a parade of the rural guards and of Cuban troops, in which the American soldiers did not participate, as it was thought that their presence in the procession might recall too strongly the fact that for more than two years the island has been under foreign domination.

Gomez Warmly Congratulated.

At the close of the ceremonies President Gomez was warmly congratulated by the foreign envoys, who extended to him the good wishes of their respective governments for the welfare of his country. A conspicuous figure was Mgr. Aversa, representing the Vatican. Many messages of congratulation were received, notably from President Roosevelt and William H. Taft, president elect of the United States. He has many friends among prominent Cubans.

Word of the taking of the oath of office by President Gomez was sent to the American battleships Maine and Massachusetts, lying in the harbor as representatives of the United States government. Immediately the shores of the harbor began to echo with the reports of a presidential salute fired in honor of the new president by the two vessels. The booming of the guns was greeted with applause by the crowds of Cubans, who hailed it as the sealing of the official recognition by the United States of the new government.

The second American occupation of Cuba by the United States began in September, 1906, when the resignation of President Tomas Estrada Palma, since deceased, was followed by a short period of disorder in the island. Under the Platt amendment the United States intervened and established a provisional government in the island, with William H. Taft as provisional governor. Judge Taft was succeeded in October, 1906, by Charles E. Magoon.

ONLY NEED TO BE ENFORCED

Legislators Believe Iowa Has Enough
Liquor Laws.

Des Moines, Ia., Jan. 28.—Prohibition forces who hoped to secure the submission of a constitutional amendment or other drastic anti-saloon legislation at this session face discouragement in the attitude of both houses.

"No more laws and better enforcement of those we have" is the stand generally taken by out-and-out prohibitionists.

Representative John R. Smith of Wright county, upon whom the constitutional amendment people have been counting, believes Iowa has enough prohibitory laws on the statute books. He said:

"I believe the legislature will be content with passing Attorney General Byers' bill for better law enforcement. I am an out-and-out prohibitionist, but I believe we have enough laws and that if we secure the enforcement of those we have we shall go far toward a settlement of the liquor problem."

IN REGARD TO INJUNCTIONS

Miners Want Modifications in Court Procedure.

Indianapolis, Jan. 28.—Beginning with discussion between the two factions, into which the 1,400 delegates are divided, the day's session of the United Mine Workers' convention closed with concordant action upon numerous resolutions, the most important of which recommended modifications in court procedure in regard to the injunction. It was the sense of the convention, as expressed in this resolution, that a restraining order should not be issued on application of an employer unless the employees against whom the order was directed had first been notified of the action and given a chance to appear in court, that in the case of a contempt proceeding growing out of alleged violation of such an injunction the hearing should be before another judge than the one that issued the writ and that the trial should be by jury.

TARIFF ON LIVE ANIMALS

Movement to Secure Its Reduction is Under Way.

New York, Jan. 28.—A movement to secure a reduction of the tariff on live animals used for food is being carried on by the Master Butchers Association of New York state and their allied bodies throughout the country. President E. F. O'Neill of the New York state branch in the course of a statement says the proposed tariff amendment is intended to apply to live cattle, sheep, lambs, calves and hogs destined for human food.

Mr. O'Neill says the prevailing high price of meat is caused largely by the absorption of range lands by the small farmer and by the high price of corn

FAILS TO GET ENOUGH VOTES

Senator Stephenson Lacks One of Being Re-Elected.

RESULT OF RECENT CHARGES

Several of the Assemblymen Who Voted for Him on Tuesday Deserted Him on Ballot in Joint Assembly.
Members of United States Committee Hold That Stephenson Already Has Been Elected.

Madison, Wis., Jan. 28.—United States Senator Isaac Stephenson lacked but one vote of being re-elected to the United States senate for a full term on the first ballot taken in joint assembly. There being two senators absent the total vote was 131, thus requiring 66 votes necessary for a choice. Senator Stephenson was able to line up but 65. The cause of his failure to win out was the desertion from his ranks of several of the assemblymen who voted for him Tuesday when the vote was taken in separated bodies. The cause of his failure to hold Tuesday's strength is said to be the sensational charges of alleged corruption in the primary hanging over the senator. Were the resolution calling for an investigation of the senatorial primary out of the way, it is said Senator Stephenson would have easy sailing. It was thought when the assembly by a vote of 56 to 44 refused to suspend the rules and take up the resolution for consideration that the measure was practically killed, but it is due to come before that body again in the regular printed form and may then be disposed of. If the resolution is knocked out there will be no investigation and with this order of things, it is said, Senator Stephenson will gain added support which he is now lacking.

An analysis of the vote shows there were over forty Republican votes distributed between Congressmen J. H. Davidson, Cooper, Esch, Lenroot and Morse, former Governor W. D. Hoard. Senator Stout and others which but for factional differences would have gone to the primary nominee.

Nearly the entire session was taken up by the demand of Senator Hudnall that the minutes of the session of Tuesday be changed to conform to what he said was a stenographic report of the meeting. In the minutes of the senate, as they appear, the word "vote" appears in the motion of Senator Martin where permission will be granted to senators not desiring to vote for Isaac Stephenson to simply register "present." This little word, it was claimed, stood between Mr. Stephenson and an election to the United States senate by the ballot of the separate houses Tuesday. After a long fight the minutes were allowed to stand.

STEPHENSON NOT DEFEATED

Senate Committee Holds That He Has Been Elected.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Members of the senate committee on privileges and elections do not concede that the failure of Senator Stephenson to receive a majority of the votes cast by the joint assembly of the Wisconsin legislature defeats his re-election.

On the contrary, they contend that having received a majority of the votes cast separately by the two houses of the legislature he is now legally elected.

According to their information there were 23 members of the senate present when the ballot was taken Tuesday. Of these 17 voted for someone for senator and 6 voted blank. Twelve of the votes for senator were cast for Mr. Stephenson. He therefore received the votes of a majority of the 23 present and the 17 votes cast for senator constitute a majority of the entire majority of the senate, which is thirty-three. Of the 100 members of the Wisconsin house of representatives, 99 were present and 60 cast their votes for Mr. Stephenson. Thus they say regardless of the action of the joint assembly Mr. Stephenson had already been elected by the action of the two houses Tuesday, and it is indicated that such would be the decision of the committee in case the joint assembly should now declare for someone else unless a different state of facts should be shown.

Three Killed by Switch Engine.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Two men and a boy were killed by a switch engine at a crossing of the New York Central in the town of Cheektowaga. The three were in a wagon huddled up to avoid the wind and snow and did not see the engine.

We are closing out a number of pairs of Adler's street gloves—black and tan—the blacks sold at $1.35 and the tans at $1.50. The tans are sizes 6, 6½ and 6¾. The black 6, 6½ and 7. You know what the Adler quality is and the sizes are all very good. Don't wait if you want a real glove bargain.

HOUSE EXPUNGES WILLETT'S SPEECH

Remarks About Roosevelt Are Stricken From Record.

Washington, Jan. 28.—A variety of subjects occupied the attention of the house of representatives. The proceedings began with the adoption of the special committee report recommending the expunging from the record of the recent speech of Mr. Willett of New York denunciatory of President Roosevelt. Then during further consideration of the postoffice appropriation bill the charges made by Mr. Rainey affecting Panama canal affairs cropped out again with the result that Mr. Weeks of Massachusetts entered a defense of Senator Lodge, while Mr. Rainey reiterated his statements regarding the purchase of two ships at the instance of the Massachusetts senator.

The postoffice appropriation bill was amended in several particulars, the most important being the transferring of 500 assistant superintendents, clerks, etc., of stations from the $1,000 to the $1,100 class, while the provision for the payment of necessary expenses of division superintendents, railway mail clerks and others while away from headquarters were stricken out. As amended the bill was passed, carrying an appropriation of over $234,000,000.

BROUGHT TO ABRUPT CLOSE

Legislative Session of the Senate Terminated by Executive Session.

Washington, Jan. 28.—A short legislative session of the senate devoted to the transaction of routine business was brought to an abrupt close by a motion to go into executive session to consider the Canadian waterways treaty. Senators desiring to consider various pending measures resisted the wish of the majority to dispose of this treaty and a yea and nay vote was required to close the doors for executive business. The treaty was not disposed of.

MERCHANT KILLS HIS CLERK

Returned Home Unexpectedly and Found Employee There.

Washta, S. D., Jan. 28.—Edward Morris, a prominent Black Hills merchant, killed David Jennings, a clerk in his store, and dangerously wounded his wife. Morris left town and returned unexpectedly during the night, entering his home by a rear window. He found Jennings there and killed him instantly, a moment later firing a bullet into his wife's body. She will recover.

Jennings had been a clerk in Morris' store and boarded at his employer's home. After the shooting Morris went to Rapid City and gave himself up to the sheriff, being later released on $3,000 bail.

Protests Against "Booze Banquet."

Chicago, Jan. 28.—The national prohibition party headquarters has issued a protest against what it calls the "booze banquet" to be held at Springfield, Ill., on Feb. 12, in celebration of the centennial anniversary of President Lincoln's birth. It says that the decision of the committee to use wine at the banquet is in defiance of the martyred president's principles.

TEMPORARILY PUT ASIDE

Anti-Japanese Bills Sidetracked by California Legislature.

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 28.—The question of anti-Japanese legislation was temporarily put aside by the legislature as a result of an agreement between President Roosevelt, Governor Gillett and the leaders of both houses. Assemblyman A. M. Drew agreed after a conference with the governor to amend his anti-alien bill. Governor L. Johnson was not willing to postpone action upon his anti-Japanese bills, but a motion to put all the measures over for a week prevailed with little opposition. The governor received the following telegram from President Roosevelt:

"I must again express from the standpoint of all our people the appreciation of the great service that you are rendering. I have absolute and entire faith in the judgment and patriotism of the people of the great state of California and I know that they will support you. My letter is already on its way to you and you may make it public whenever you desire."

Johnson and the members of the San Francisco delegation will stand firm on the passage of the bills without amendment.

Senator J. B. Sanford, who early in the session introduced a bill similar to Drew's, decided to give up the fight, advancing the theory that if the measures were forced to an issue, President Roosevelt would send a special message to congress asking that the Japanese be given the right to become citizens.

HARRIMAN MERGER SUIT

Hearing of the Case Before an Examiner in Pittsburgh.

Pittsburg, Jan. 28.—That there was competition between the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific railroads prior to 1901, but has not been since, was the tenor of the testimony brought out here at the hearing of the Harriman merger suit before Special Examiner Sylvester G. Williams of Denver. Attorney C. A. Severance conducted the hearing in behalf of the government, while Robert S. Lovett, general counsel for the Harriman system, represented the railroads. That the same agent solicited freight business in Pittsburg for both roads was stated by several witnesses, while others asserted that there had been no competition in rates between the two railroads since 1901. J. F. Townsend, traffic manager of the National Tube company, said the Union Pacific solicits business in connection with the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake road.

F. A. Ogden, general freight agent for Jones & Laughlin, who, he said, are the largest manufacturers of steel in the country, except the United Steel corporation, testified that since 1901 the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific have had but one representative here, while prior to that time the two roads frequently clashed and were strong competitors. He said that if one road changed a rate now the other would make the same change.

Children Saved From Flames.

Minneapolis, Jan. 28.—Fifteen children were saved from possible death or injury in a panic-stricken rush through smoke-filled corridors to safety by the coolness of Miss Eva Burnham, resident nurse, and Moses Norman, janitor, at the Unity settlement house when fire broke out in that building. The children were carried out in safety.

WILL CONSIDER THE NEEDS OF THE NAVY

President Roosevelt Appoints
a Committee.

Washington, Jan. 28.—President Roosevelt is of the opinion that the organization of the navy department is not such as to bring the best results and he has appointed a committee whose announced duty will be to "consider certain needs of the navy." The president's action was somewhat of a surprise in view of the fact that the members of the committee just appointed two weeks ago met at Washington and endorsed Secretary Newberry's plan of reorganization, and in view also of the authorization by the senate of an inquiry into naval expenditures, the conduct of business and the need, if any, of legislation to improve the administration of the navy department.

Announcement of the president's action was entirely unexpected at the navy department. Secretary Newberry, who had issued an order carrying out his proposed plan, with particular reference to the navy yards, appeared to be the most surprised of all. He declared that he was not aware that the president had taken such action, had not seen the letter of appointment addressed to the various members of the commission and did not know the purport of the letter addressed to them. His first information on the subject had come to him from the press.

The president has sent identical letters to each of the eight members of the commission, which is headed by Paul Morton, a former secretary of the navy, the other members being Justice Moody, also a former secretary of the navy; Judge A. G. Dayton, formerly chairman of the house naval affairs committee, and Rear Admirals S. B. Luce, A. T. Mahan, William M. Folger, Robley D. Evans and William S. Cowles, all of whom are on the retired list. He sets out certain subjects for the commission to consider under two general heads, first as to the fundamental principles of an organization that will insure an efficient preparation for war in time of peace, and secondly, specific recommendations as to the changes in the present organization that will accomplish this result.

New Foundland Government Submits Counter Proposal.

St. Johns, N. F., Jan. 28.—The New Foundland cabinet has not accepted the draft of the proposed fisheries agreement arranged at Washington, but on the other hand has submitted a counter proposal to Ambassador Bryce and Secretary Root.

The newspapers opposed to Sir Robert Bond's government express the opinion that the premier does not intend to accept the Washington agreement.

Pleads for Better Waterways.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—Congressman J. E. Ransdell of Louisiana, president of the National Rivers and Harbors congress, in addressing the Traffic club of Chicago, pleaded for the support of the railways in securing more and better waterways and advocated a bond issue sufficient to secure $50,000,000 a year for the purpose of improving rivers, harbors and canals.

Cowles, all of whom are on the retired list. He sets out certain subjects for the commission to consider under two general heads, first as to the fundamental principles of an organization that will insure an efficient preparation for war in time of peace, and secondly, specific recommendations as to the changes in the present organization that will accomplish this result.

NEW EPOCH IN RAILROADING

Harriman Obtains Control of New York Central.

VANDERBILT FAMILY DEPOSED

Retired From Active Management to
the Position of Minority Interests.
"Czar of the Pacific" Now Domi-
nates and Controls a Through Line
of Railroads From the Atlantic to
the Pacific Coast.

New York, Jan. 28.—Edward H. Harriman, long the dominating figure in American railroads, has been elected a director of the New York Central
and Hudson River Railway company.

With his formal election, the family of Vanderbilt was retired from active management to the position of minority interests.

Mr. Harriman's election means more than appears on the surface. It marks an epoch in American railroading. For the first time one man, with his allied interests, dominates and controls a through line of railroads from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

This feat would have been accomplished months ago had it not been
for the trouble which the government has been making for Harriman and his railroad monopolistic ideas. There have been stringent rulings against the same ownership of parallel lines and against the purchase of stock in competitive companies.

Lawyers Waxed Fat on Fees.

The corporation lawyers, however, waxed fat off the fees that have been paid to find a way by which Harriman could win a line from coast to coast.
There was no excitement about the coronation of America's czar. It came at a weekly meeting of the directors of the New York Central held in the board room in the first part of the old Grand Central station which has not yet been torn down in the building of the new station.

Mr. Harriman was not there in per-
son. He was not even in New York.
He was traveling in his private car
Arden from Atlanta, Ga., to Richmond, Va. When he reached Richmond the account of his election was not even news to him. He expected it either
this week or Wednesday of next week.

He went into the New York Central board in spite of the remaining Vanderbilt members. He was elected because his personal holdings, the holdings of the Union Pacific and of William G. Rockefeller and their friends outnumbered the common stock held
now by the Vanderbilts and their allies, Twombly, Depew, et al.

Upon the announcement of Harriman's election, the Central stock responded and rose from 130 3/4 to 131 1/2.

Harvard Presidents as Yachtsmen.

Like President Eliot of Harvard, Professor Abbott Lawrence Lowell,
who is to succeed him as Harvard's head, is an enthusiastic yachtsman. At Cotuit, where he often spends the summer on the handsome estate of his wife's mother, Professor Lowell has a fleet of small boats with which he enjoys his favorite sport. He never allows a good strong breeze to blow but what he dons his oilskins and feels the thrill of a trip over the whitecaps, grasping the tiller with skill equal to that of the best fisherman on the south shore.

When You Buy Oysters Don't Pay For Water

Why should you get a pint of water with every quart of Oysters? Water is cheap—bloats and bleaches the oyster—spoils its natural flavor.
You have never known how good oysters can be unless you have had

"Sealship" Oysters

They are shucked into air-tight steel cans and shipped direct from the beds—packed with ice around the container, not in contact with the oysters. You get all solid meats. And how fresh, wholesome, appetizing and deliciously different they are!

Ask for "Sealship Sense," a booklet containing new and attractive ways of preparing oysters.

If your dealer doesn't sell "Sealship," here are some who do:

McGinn & Smith, H. H. Baker and C. W. Koering

The genuine "Sealship" Oysters are always sold from a White Porcelain Display Case bearing the "Sealship" trade mark in blue. This is for your protection—look for it.
The "Sealship" Carrier System is patented. Infringements will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

NEW EPOCH IN RAILROADING

Harriman Obtains Control of
New York Central.

VANDERBILT FAMILY DEPOSED

Retired From Active Management to
the Position of Minority Interests.

"Czar of the Pacific" Now Domi-
nates and Controls a Through Line
of Railroads From the Atlantic to
the Pacific Coast.

New York, Jan. 28.--Edward H. Harriman, long the dominating figure in American railways, has been elected
a director of the New York Central
and Hudson River Railway company.

With his formal election, the family of Vanderbilt was retired from active management to the position of
minority interests.

Mr. Harriman's election means more than appears on the surface. It marks an epoch in American railroading. For the first time one man, with his allied
interests, dominates and controls a
through line of railroads from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

This feat would have been accomplished months ago had it not been
for the trouble which the government
has been making for Harriman and his railroad monopolistic ideas. There
have been stringent rulings against

of the New York Central held in the
board room in the first part of the old Grand Central station which has
not yet been torn down in the building of the new station.

Mr. Harriman was not there in per-
son. He was not even in New York.
He was traveling in his private car
Arden from Atlanta, Ga., to Richmond, Va. When he reached Richmond the
account of his election was not even
news to him. He expected it either
this week or Wednesday of next week.

He went into the New York Central
board in spite of the remaining Vanderbilt members. He was elected because his personal holdings, the holdings of the Union Pacific and of William G. Rockefeller and their friends outnumbered the common stock held
now by the Vanderbilts and their allies, Twombly, Depew, et al.

Upon the announcement of Harri-
man's election, the Central stock responded and rose from 130 1/2 to 131 1/2.

90 POUND RAIL IS TO BE LAID

Northern Pacific Will Put in Heavy Steel Between Cedar Lake
and Brainerd

MUCH TRACK IMPROVEMENT

No Talk of Double Tracking This Year Says Train Master
Nicoles of Duluth

Train master K. M. Nicoles, of the Lake Superior division of the Northern Pacific railway, is in the city from Duluth today and was asked as to the rumors that this division would be double tracked from Carlton to Staples. He stated that so far as he knew there was nothing to the report, but that 90 pound steel would be laid between Cedar Lake and Brainerd this season. There is 85 pound steel from Duluth to Cedar Lake, but from that point to Brainerd the old light rails have not yet been replaced. The company has now raised the standard of main line rail from 85 to 90 pound and hence the gap will be filled with rail of the latter weight. Mr. Nicoles also expressed the opinion that there would be a good deal of work in the way of ballasting and graveling of track on the division this coming season. He was unable, however, to give any information as to the probability of the construction of a spur to the Rogers-Brown shaft at Rabbitt lake, and said that he had heard nothing of it so far this year.

Majestic Stock Company

J. H. (Jack) Harlow, junior member of the producing firm of Bohlin and Harlow, the managers of the Majestic Stock company, which will open an engagement at the Brainerd opera house, Monday, February 8th, reached town Tuesday and is making active preparations for the forthcoming stock season for Brainerd. "I find that theatres all through the country are making demands for stock companies just such as will be located at Brainerd," said Mr. Harlow. "The theatrical season just beginning to close will mark a new epoch in things theatrical, stock companies will be in the vogue for the next season, playing at popular prices in order to compete with the vaudeville theatres throughout the country. It is a fact that a great number of road companies playing at popular prices have had to close for lack of business on account of the competition, of the vaudeville. Stock companies are being organized for all of the larger towns, and will, I believe, be more popular than vaudeville ever was, the companies will play in larger theatres, where a chance will be given to properly stage plays, which is very much against the store front vaudevilles, and when the larger and high class companies come the stock will be moved out for the night. I have had great success with stock in such cities as Salt Lake, Ogden, Marinette and Menominee, Madison, Wis., and am quite sure that the company that Mr. Bohlin and I will bring here will be a delight and a treat to the theatre-going public of Brainerd. Our plans embrace a stock in Grand Forks, Fargo and Sioux Falls."

GREAT ACTIVITY PREDICTED

Next Year to be Biggest Since Attention was Directed to the District on the Cuyuna Range

Early spring will see great activity on the new Cuyuna iron range in this vicinity—in fact it will be the largest year since attention was directed to the district. Work of developing a mine at the Rogers-Brown shaft is going on satisfactorily and it has reached a depth of 150 feet and cross cutting is being done. The pile of ore being taken from the shaft is growing noticeably and will accumulate faster now that the drift has been started, says the Aitkin Age.

Much drilling is being done and much more is being planned and more drills will be at work this season than at any time in the past if reports are correct. New interests are coming in all the time and little idea is had by the public of the vast amount of money that is being poured into this new iron district. The new town of Cuyuna will take on active life when the weather moderates and everyone is interested in knowing what the plans are for a railroad into the location. Both the Soo and the N. P. have surveys made but nothing is known of their intentions.

MET AFTER 28 YEARS

Colonel Thorp Led Campaign Forces of President Garfield Forces in Ohio Legislature

The Minneapolis Tribune has the following regarding a Crow Wing county citizen:

"Once campaign manager for James A. Garfield in his fight for a senatorial toga in the Ohio legislature and opposed by William Howard Taft, president-elect, as manager for his father, Alphonso Taft, Col. Freeman Thorp of Hubert, Minn., a portrait painter of note, called yesterday afternoon on Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams college, who was the guest of the alumni of Williams.

Colonel Thorpe had not seen Harry A. Garfield for 28 years, and when they met yesterday the old days were gone over and reminiscences of the assassinated president told.

Colonel Thorp was a close personal friend of President James A. Garfield and was through several political campaigns with him. He was in Washington 29 years ago when Garfield, then Congressman Garfield, summoned him back to Ohio to take charge of the struggle for the senatorial toga before the Ohio legislature. Garfield was chosen senator, Taft withdrawing in his favor.

Colonel Thorp was also very well acquainted with another martyred president, William McKinley.

He is in Minneapolis painting the portrait of William M. Liggett, former dean of the College of Agriculture.

Louis James in Peer Gynt

"Peer Gynt," Ibsen's famous comedy, which will be presented at the Brainerd opera house by Louis James next Monday evening, February 1, is a play which should appeal to all theatre goers in Brainerd. It is one of the finest comedies ever written, one that ranks among the very best, and with a chorus ballet and augmented orchestra it should make a great hit with those who care especially for musical entertainments. Louis James, in succeeding to the position of star in the production made famous by the great Richard Mansfield has certainly a hard position to fill but he has made good wherever he has appeared. The seat sale will commence Saturday at 10:00 a. m., at H. P. Dunn's drug store.

PLAN TO PURIFY KENTUCKY.

Series of Mass Meetings to Stamp Out Lawlessness.

A call has been issued from Jackson, Ky., for a great mass meeting of delegates from forty-two counties to purify eastern Kentucky. The meeting will be held at Jackson early in May.

The general situation in that part of the state will be discussed and plans put forth for the stamping out of lawless cases, including feudism, illicit distilling of whisky and operating of "blind tiger" saloons. Mass meetings will be held first in each of the counties and delegates selected for the big meeting. This will be the first time in the history of Kentucky that this method of stopping lawlessness has been tried. The recent Callahan-Deaton feud outbreak is a strong underlying cause for the move.

HOPKINS IS LOSING VOTES

His Candidacy for Re-Election to Senate Suffers Severely.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 28.—Senator Albert J. Hopkins' candidacy for re-election to the United States senate suffered severely in the joint session, when four more ballots failed to break the deadlock. Senator Hopkins' vote on the final ballot of the day dropped down to 73, but the loss of votes appears only secondary in importance to the blow administered by the actions of Representative Morton D. Hull, who was chairman of the Republican house caucus, and Senator W. Clyde Jones, chairman of the steering committee in the upper branch of the general assembly. These gentlemen publicly renounced any further allegiance to the Hopkins candidacy, either by primary or caucus instructions, and voted for George Edmund Foss, Representative Hull led the break from Hopkins on the nineteenth ballot and Senator Jones followed on the senate roll call in the same joint ballot. Hull and Jones are the Republican leaders in their respective branches of the general assembly who have stood firmly up to this time for the things which the primary and caucus represent.

Majestic Stock Company

J. H. (Jack) Harlow, junior member of the producing firm of Bohlin and Harlow, the managers of the Majestic Stock company, which will open an engagement at the Brainerd opera house, Monday, February 8th, reached town Tuesday and is making active preparations for the forthcoming stock season for Brainerd. "I find that theatres all through the country are making demands for stock companies just such as will be located at Brainerd," said Mr. Harlow. "The theatrical season just beginning to close will mark a new epoch in things theatrical, stock companies will be in the vogue for the next season, playing at popular prices in order to compete with the vaudeville theatres throughout the country. It is a fact that a great number of road companies playing at popular prices have had to close for lack of business on account of the competition, of the vaudeville. Stock companies are being organized for all of the larger towns, and will, I believe, be more popular than vaudeville ever was, the companies will play in larger theatres, where a chance will be given to properly stage plays, which is very much against the store front vaudevilles, and when the larger and high class companies come the stock will be moved out for the night. I have had great success with stock in such cities as Salt Lake, Ogden, Marinette and Menominee, Madison, Wis., and am quite sure that the company that Mr. Bohlin and I will bring here will be a delight and a treat to the theatre-going public of Brainerd. Our plans embrace a stock in Grand Forks, Fargo and Sioux Falls."

GREAT ACTIVITY PREDICTED

Next Year to be Biggest Since Attention was Directed to the District on the Cuyuna Range

Early spring will see great activity on the new Cuyuna iron range in this vicinity—in fact it will be the largest year since attention was directed to the district. Work of developing a mine at the Rogers-Brown shaft is going on satisfactorily and it has reached a depth of 150 feet and cross cutting is being done. The pile of ore being taken from the shaft is growing noticeably and will accumulate faster now that the drift has been started, says the Aitkin Age.

Much drilling is being done and much more is being planned and more drills will be at work this season than at any time in the past if reports are correct. New interests are coming in all the time and little idea is had by the public of the vast amount of money that is being poured into this new iron district. The new town of Cuyuna will take on active life when the weather moderates and everyone is interested in knowing what the plans are for a railroad into the location. Both the Soo and the N. P. have surveys made but nothing is known of their intentions.

MET AFTER 28 YEARS

Colonel Thorp Led Campaign Forces of President Garfield for Toga in Ohio Legislature

The Minneapolis Tribune has the following regarding a Crow Wing county citizen:

"Once campaign manager for James A. Garfield in his fight for a senatorial toga in the Ohio legislature and opposed by William Howard Taft, president-elect, as manager for his father, Alphonso Taft, Col. Freeman Thorp of Hubert, Minn., a portrait painter of note, called yesterday afternoon on Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams college, who was the guest of the alumni of Williams.

Colonel Thorp had not seen Harry A. Garfield for 28 years, and when they met yesterday the old days were gone over and reminiscences of the assassinated president told.

Colonel Thorp was a close personal friend of President James A. Garfield and was through several political campaigns with him. He was in Washington 29 years ago when Garfield, then Congressman Garfield, summoned him back to Ohio to take charge of the struggle for the senatorial toga before the Ohio legislature. Garfield was chosen senator, Taft withdrawing in his favor.

Colonel Thorp was also very well acquainted with another martyred president, William McKinley.

He is in Minneapolis painting the portrait of William M. Ligeret, former dean of the College of Agriculture.

Louis James in Peer Gynt

"Peer Gynt," Ibsen's famous comedy, which will be presented at the Brainerd opera house by Louis James next Monday evening, February 1, is a play which should appeal to all theatre goers in Brainerd. It is one of the finest comedies ever written, one that ranks among the very best, and with a chorus ballet and augmented orchestra it should make a great hit with those who care especially for musical entertainments. Louis James, in succeeding to the position of star in the production made famous by the great Richard Mansfield has certainly a hard position to fill but he has made good wherever he has appeared. PLAN TO PURIFY KENTUCKY.

Series of Mass Meetings to Stamp Out Lawlessness.

A call has been issued from Jackson, Ky., for a great mass meeting of delegates from forty-two counties to purify eastern Kentucky. The meeting will be held at Jackson early in May.

The general situation in that part of the state will be discussed and plans put forth for the stamping out of lawless cases, including feudism, illicit distilling of whiskey and operating of "blind tiger" saloons. Mass meetings will be held first in each of the counties and delegates selected for the big meeting. This will be the first time in the history of Kentucky that this method of stopping lawlessness has been tried. The recent Callahan-Deaton feud outbreak is a strong underlying cause for the move.

HOPKINS IS LOSING VOTES

His Candidacy for Re-Election to Senate Suffers Severely.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 28.—Senator Albert J. Hopkins' candidacy for re-election to the United States senate suffered severely in the joint session, when four more ballots failed to break the deadlock. Senator Hopkins' vote on the final ballot of the day dropped down to 73, but the loss of votes appears only secondary in importance to the blow administered by the actions of Representative Morton D. Hull, who was chairman of the Republican house caucus, and Senator W. Clyde Jones, chairman of the steering committee in the upper branch of the general assembly. These gentlemen publicly renounced any further allegiance to the Hopkins candidacy, either by primary or caucus instructions, and voted for George Edmund Foss. Representative Hull led the break from Hopkins on the nineteenth ballot and Senator Jones followed on the senate roll call in the same joint ballot. Hull and Jones are the Republican leaders in their respective branches of the general assembly who have stood firmly up to this time for the things which the primary and caucus represent.

HITS AT THE PRIMARY LAW

Senator Cook Would Amend Present Statute.

FIFTY PER CENT VOTE NEEDED

Measure Designed to Keep Members of Each Party in Their Own Meetings—Working Women May Receive More Attention—Proposed That Old Soldiers and Sailors Shall Ride on Passes.

St. Paul, Jan. 28.—If 50 per cent of the voters of a party were needed to nominate a candidate at the primaries this requirement ought to tend to keep members of each party in his own meeting. This is the idea of Senator L. O. Cook of Kellogg, who introduced a bill in the senate amending the present primary law.

Additional attention will be given to the working women of the state if a bill by Senator H. H. Witherstone of Rochester becomes a law. His measure provides that a woman assistant labor commissioner be appointed by the head of that department, with authority to appoint inspectors to look after the condition of restaurants and other places where women work.

Two bills by Senator Sundberg of Kennedy appeared at the request of the railway and warehouse commission. One provides that grain must be delivered when the owner asks it, and the other specifies the kind of receipt which shall be issued.

Old soldiers will ride on passes if the bill of S. D. Hall of Buffalo Lake becomes a law. He would amend the anti-pass law so that old soldiers, sailors and marines are exempt from its provisions.

Four National Guard Bills.

Following the suggestions of Adjutant General Wood in his report to the governor Senator Hardy has introduced four bills relating to the national guard. One bill permits the state to join with cities in equipping and maintaining armories for the national guard, another perfects the organization in conference with the Dick bill, and the other two increase the salary of the adjutant general to $3,600 and allows him another assistant.

The motor vehicle law proposed by the Automobile club of the state made its appearance through V. L. Johnson of Center City. The bill covers all phases of automobile legislation.

Instead of a commission to recommend a bill to the next legislature for the solution of the employers' liability problem, such as the governor will recommend to the legislature, F. B. Wright's bill introduced in the house, calls for a commission to at once handle and settle all personal injury cases.

The bill provides that in all such cases the question of contributory negligence and whether the employer furnishes a safe place to work and safe machinery shall not be considered, but damages paid according to the injury. The bill provides for a commission of three to whom all personal injury cases may be submitted, and if the employer and employee agree to submit the case to this commission, it shall be final and a bar to all future litigation.

After "Hot Air" Concerns.

Representative R. L. Mork of Brainerd wants to stop the swindling of the public by glowing prospectuses of gold mines, air lines and other "hot air" games, so he introduced a bill to "prohibit the making or publishing of false or exaggerated statements or publications of or concerning the affairs, pecuniary condition or property of any corporation, joint stock association, co-partnership or individual, which said statements are intended to give, or shall have a tendency to give, a less or greater value to the shares, bonds or property, or any part thereof of said corporation, than the shares, bonds or property really possess." Any one who makes any such false statements is guilty of a felony and may be punished with ten years' imprisonment or a fine of $10,000.

Two election bills were introduced by Representative Carl Wallace of Minneapolis. One provides that election precincts be redistricted when they have 600 voters, instead of 400 as at present, and that in cities of 10,000 or over the polls shall be open from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Express companies have their tax raised from 6 to 8 per cent in a bill introduced by W. A. Nolan of Grand Meadow.

The beginnings of the new state penitentiary at Stillwater were inspected by 150 senators and representatives. Warden Woller said that they expected to turn out twenty-five machines of each kind from the shop this year, and that next year they would be able to make 300 or 400 each of harvesters, mowers and other farm machines. He said that he had orders for delivery this year of 500 machines.

It is contemplated to permit the board of control to issue certificates of indebtedness to the extent of $2,500,000 so that the new prison can be built immediately.

The senate in committee of the whole killed the bill of J. W. Wright appropriating the returns of the postage registry tax to the road and bridge fund in each county.

GLAZIER IS FOUND GUILTY

Former Treasurer Convicted of Misappropriating State Funds.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 28.—Ex-State Treasurer Frank P. Glazier of Chelsea, whose failure in December, 1907, resulted in the closing of the Chelsea Savings bank, of which Glazier was the head and which had on deposit about $685,000 of state funds, was found guilty by a jury in the Ingham county circuit court of misappropriating state funds. Mr. Glazier's attorney immediately gave notice of appeal to the supreme court and he was released on $10,000 bail and given until March 8 to file a bill of exceptions and a motion for a new trial. Mr. Glazier received the verdict without emotion.

GLIMPSES OF LINCOLN

Tributes to the Martyr President's Character and Leadership.

HOW HE PARDONED A SOLDIER

L. E. Chittenden Tells in Full Story of "Lincoln and the Sleeping Sentinel"—Miracle of His Style in Speech and Writing—Homage of the People at His Funeral.

Within a few days the formal celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth will be observed. Many stories are being told about the martyr president and tributes paid to his character.

L. E. Chittenden, who was register of the treasury from 1861 to 1865 and a personal friend of Abraham Lincoln, now for the first time tells in full the story of "Lincoln and the Sleeping Sentinel," published by Harper & Bros., which has hitherto been known only in its bare outline. He speaks as one having authority, and with justice, for he bore an important share in the episode.

It was on a dark September morning in 1861, he informs us, that he was waiting on at his Washington office by a party of soldiers. They belonged to the Third Vermont regiment, then stationed at the Chain bridge, some three miles above Georgetown. One of their number, a youth of twenty-one, had fallen asleep at his post as sentinel. A hardy boy, not as yet inured to military life, he had found it impossible to keep awake for two nights in succession. He had been found by the relief sound asleep, and sentenced to be shot. With tears in his eyes, his comrades pleaded with Mr. Chittenden to use his influence and save the boy's life.

"He's as good a boy as there is in the army," said the leader, "and he is not to blame." Scott had never before been up all night in his life. He had been "all beat out" by his first experience. The second night he had succumbed to sheer physical exhaustion.

Mr. Chittenden's heart was touched. He determined to put young Scott in personal touch with President Lincoln. By using all his influence he succeeded.

This is how Scott himself told the story of the interview:

The president was the kindest man I had ever seen. I knew him at once by a Lincoln medal I had long worn. I was scared at first, for I had never before talked with a great man. But Mr. Lincoln was so easy with me, so gentle, that I soon forgot my fright. He asked me all about the people at home, the neighbors, the farm and where I went to school and who my schoolmates were. Then he asked me about mother and how she looked, and I was glad I could take her photograph from my bosom and show it to him. He said how thankful I ought to be that my mother still lived and how, if he was in my place, he would try to make her a proud mother and never cause her a sorrow or a tear. I cannot remember it all, but every word was so kind.

He said nothing yet about that dreadful next morning. I thought it must be that he was so kind hearted that he didn't like to speak of it. But why did he say so much about my mother and my not causing her a sorrow or a tear when I knew that I must die the next morning? But I supposed that was something that would have to go unexplained, and so I determined to brace up and tell him that I did not feel a bit guilty and ask him wouldn't he fix it so that the firing party would not be from our regiment. That was going to be the hardest of all to die by the hands of my comrades.

Just as I was going to ask him this favor he stood up, and he says to me, "My boy, stand up here and look me in the face." I did as he bade me. "My boy," he said, "you are not going to be shot tomorrow. I believe you when you tell me that you could not keep awake. I am going to trust you and send you back to your regiment. But I have been put to a great deal of trouble on your account. I have had to come up here from Washington when I have got a great deal to do, and what I want to know is how you are going to pay my bill."

There was a big lump in my throat. I could scarcely speak. I had expected to die, you see, and had kind of got used to thinking that way. To have it all changed in a minute! But I got it crowded down and managed to say:

"I am as grateful as ever a man can be to you for saving my life. But it comes upon me sudden and unexpected like. I didn't lay out for it at all. But there is some way for me to pay you, and I will find it out for a little. There is the bounty in the savings bank. I guess we could borrow some money on the mortgage of the farm. There was my pay, which was something, and if he would wait until pay day I was sure the boys would help, so I thought we could make it up if it wasn't more than $500 or $600."

"But it is a great deal more than that," he said.

Then I said I didn't just see how, but I was sure I would find some way—if I lived.

Then Mr. Lincoln put his hands on my shoulders and looked into my face as if he was sorry and said: "My boy, my bill is a very large one. Your friends cannot pay it, nor your bounty, nor the farm, nor all your comrades. There is only one man in all the world who can pay it, and his name is William Scott. If from this day William Scott does his duty, so that, if I were there when he comes to die, he could look me in the face as he does now and say, 'I have kept my promise, and I have done my duty as a soldier,' then my debt will be paid. Will you make that promise and try to keep it?"

Scott did promise and did keep his promise. He soon earned the reputation of being the bravest man in his regiment, the faithfulest and the kindest. If any man were needed for the most exposed service, Scott was always eager to be called upon. If any other man were in trouble, Scott was his good Samaritan. If any soldier were sick, Scott was his willing nurse. He was ready to volunteer for any extra service or labor. Nevertheless he steadily refused promotion, saying that he had done nothing to deserve it.

The end came in March, 1862, near Yorktown. The federal forces were on one side of the James river, the Confederate on the other. General McClellan had ordered General Smith to assault and capture the works on the south bank. The Confederates, however, were too strongly entrenched. They drove their assailants back across the river. Scott was almost the first to reach the south bank, the first in the rifle pits and the last to retreat. He was carrying one of his wounded comrades across the stream when the fire of the enemy was concentrated upon him. He staggered with his living burden to the shore and fell.

"He was shot all to pieces," said an eyewitness. "We carried him back out of the line of fire and laid him on the grass to die. But his strength was great, and such a powerful man was hard to kill." They carried him to a cot in a nearby tent. Just at daylight the word was passed that Scott wanted to see all the boys. They went into his tent and stood around his cot. His face was bright and his voice cheerful.

"Boys," he said, "I will never see another battle. I supposed this would be my last. I haven't much to say. You all know what you can tell them at home about me. I have tried to do the right thing. I am almost certain you will all say that. Then, while his strength was falling, his life ebbing away, and we looked to see his voice sink into a whisper, his face lighted up and his voice came out natural and clear as he said: 'If any of you ever have the chance I wish you would tell President Lincoln that I have never forgotten the kind words he said to me at the Chain bridge, that I have tried to be a good soldier and true to the flag, that I should have paid my whole debt to him if I had lived and that now, when I know that I am dying, I think of his kind face and thank him again because he gave me the chance to fall like a soldier in battle and not like a coward by the hands of my comrades.'"

Then he closed his eyes, crossed his hands on his breast, and that was all.

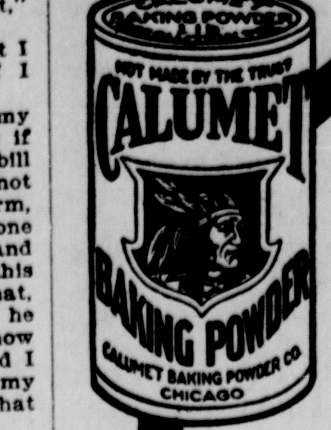

Richard Watson Gilder in his study of "Lincoln the Leader," published in the February Century, presents some interesting phases of Abraham Lincoln's character. Of his speech, writings and belief in God he says:

"Lincoln's style in speech and writing is the same sort of miracle that gave us the consummate art of Shakespeare, the uncollected actor; of Burns, the plowman, and of Keats, the apothecary's apprentice, son of a lively stable man. It is not easy to analyze a miracle, but in discussing the leadership of Lincoln it is interesting to find certain qualities in his literary style that are traits of his character and thus elements of his leadership.

"Notwithstanding that the country has been ransacked for every record of his public speech and every scrap of paper to which he put pen, there has been found from him absolutely nothing discreditable and little that can be criticised in the way of expression. Without the aid of any teacher he early learned to be moderate and reasonable in statement, so that on the part even of the obscure young politician there is a complete absence of that kind of public speech which is described in a passage he loved to quote, where it is said of the orator that 'he mounted the rostrum, threw back his head, shined his eyes and left the consequences to God.'

"An intensely important feature of Lincoln's leadership would be omitted if nothing were said of the effect upon his thought and conduct of his belief in and conscious communion with an almighty, mysterious and benevolent power, concerning itself not less with human affairs than with the march of seasons and the sweep of constellations. The Deity was to him an ever present, ever regnant influence. There was nothing of theology or dogmatism in his religious opinions, but he lived in the spirit. The strange silence of the Almighty Sovereign perplexed him, and he sought with passionate eagerness to read the decrees of Providence in the unfoldings of events, sometimes taking definite action in accordance with his interpretation of divine indications. And always the belief in God was to him a challenge to singleness of purpose. To the all pure he lifted clean hands and a pure heart."

Mr. Gilder in closing his article says: "Let me close with the memory of a night of the spring of the year 1865, in the time of the blooming of lilacs, as says the wonderful poem. I was waiting in Philadelphia for Lincoln's funeral train to start, as it was my duty to accompany it to Newark. I had and have little desire to look upon faces from which the light of life is departed, but suddenly it came upon me that I had never seen the great president and must not let go by this last opportunity to behold at least the deserted temple of a lofty soul. To my grief I found it was too late. The police had drawn their line across the path in front of Independence hall. But my earnest desire prevailed, and I was the last to pass in by the window and behold in a sudden dazzle of lights and flowers the still features of that face we all now know so well.

"Then I went my way into the night and walked alone northward to the distant station. Soon I heard behind me the wailing music of the funeral dirge. The procession approached. The funeral train moved out beneath the stars. Never shall I forget the groups of weeping men and women at the little towns through which we slowly passed and the stricken faces of the thousands who in the cities stood like mourners at the funeral of a beloved father. Thus, as came the dawn and the full day, through grieving states was borne the body of the beloved chieftain, while the luminous spirit and example of Lincoln, the leader of the people, went forth into all the earth along the pathway of eternal fame."

LONG SEARCH FINALLY ENDS

Chicago Police Believe They Have Captured Murderer.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—After a search for eight years, the police arrested a man in connection not only with the killing of two Chicago policemen, but also with the robbery of a bank and the killing of two watchmen at Sodus, N. Y. The prisoner gave his name as James Mack, alias Quinn and "Whitie." The arrest followed a long continued hunt for the slayer of Police Charles T. Pennell and Timothy Devine, whose bodies were found in an alley one night eight years ago. The police believe the murderer of the policemen was the same who committed the Sodus bank robbery and who robbed several postoffices in Indiana and Michigan.

"The Blood is The Life."

Science has never gone beyond the above simple statement of scripture. But it has illuminated that statement and given it a meaning ever broadening with the increasing breadth of knowledge. When the blood is "bad" or impure it is not alone the body which suffers through disease. The brain is also clouded, the mind and judgement are affected, and many an evil deed or impure thought may be directly traced to the impurity of the blood. Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions, other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sores, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrapper, the same being attested as correct under oath. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels.

HITS AT THE PRIMARY LAW

Senator Cook Would Amend Present Statute.

FIFTY PER CENT VOTE NEEDED

Measure Designed to Keep Members of Each Party in Their Own Meetings—Working Women May Receive More Attention—Proposed That Old Soldiers and Sailors Shall Ride on Passes.

St. Paul, Jan. 28.—If 50 per cent of the voters of a party were needed to nominate a candidate at the primaries this requirement ought to tend to keep members of each party in his own meeting. This is the idea of Senator L. O. Cook of Kellogg, who introduced a bill in the senate amending the present primary law.

Additional attention will be given to the working women of the state if a bill by Senator H. H. Witherstine of Rochester becomes a law. His measure provides that a woman assistant labor commissioner be appointed by the head of that department, with authority to appoint inspectors to look after the condition of restaurants and other places where women work.

Two bills by Senator Sundberg of Kennedy appeared at the request of the railway and warehouse commission. One provides that grain must be delivered when the owner asks it, and the other specifies the kind of receipt which shall be issued.

Old soldiers will ride on passes if the bill of S. D. Hall of Buffalo Lake becomes a law. He would amend the anti-pass law so that old soldiers, sailors and marines are exempt from its provisions.

Four National Guard Bills.

Following the suggestions of Adjutant General Wood in his report to the governor Senator Hardy has introduced four bills relating to the national guard. One bill permits the state to join with cities in equipping and maintaining armories for the national guard, another perfects the organization in conference with the Dick bill, and the other two increase the salary of the adjutant general to $3,600 and allows him another assistant.

The motor vehicle law proposed by the Automobile club of the state made its appearance through V. L. Johnson of Center City. The bill covers all phases of automobile legislation.

Instead of a commission to recommend a bill to the next legislature for the solution of the employers' liability problem, such as the governor will recommend to the legislature, F. B. Wright's bill introduced in the house, calls for a commission to at once handle and settle all personal injury cases.

The bill provides that in all such cases the question of contributory negligence and whether the employer furnishes a safe place to work and safe machinery shall not be considered, but damages paid according to the injury. The bill provides for a commission of three to whom all personal injury cases may be submitted, and if the employer and employee agree to submit the case to this commission, it shall be final and a bar to all future litigation.

After "Hot Air" Concerns.

Representative R. L. Mork of Brainerd wants to stop the swindling of the public by glowing prospectuses of gold mines, air lines and other "hot air" games, so he introduced a bill to "prohibit the making or publishing of false or exaggerated statements or publications of or concerning the affairs, pecuniary condition or property of any corporation, joint stock association, co-partnership or individual, which said statements are intended to give, or shall have a tendency to give, a less or greater value to the shares, bonds or property, or any part thereof of said corporation, than the shares, bonds or property really possess." Any one who makes any such false statements is guilty of a felony and may be punished with ten years' imprisonment or a fine of $10,000.

Two election bills were introduced by Representative Carl Wallace of Minneapolis. One provides that election precincts be redistricted when they have 600 voters, instead of 400 as at present, and that in cities of 10,000 or over the polls shall be open from 6 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Express companies have their tax raised from 6 to 8 per cent in a bill introduced by W. A. Nolan of Grand Meadow.

The beginnings of the new state penitentiary at Stillwater were inspected by 150 senators and representatives. Warden Wolfert said that they expected to turn out twenty-five machines of each kind from the shop this year, and that next year they would be able to make 300 or 400 each of harvesters, mowers and other farm machines. He said that he had orders for delivery this year of 500 machines.

It is contemplated to permit the board of control to issue certificates of indebtedness to the extent of $2,500,000 so that the new prison can be built immediately.

The senate in committee of the whole killed the bill of J. W. Wright appropriating the returns of the mortgage registry tax to the road and bridge fund in each county.

GLAZIER IS FOUND GUILTY

Former Treasurer Convicted of Misappropriating State Funds.

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 28.—Ex-State Treasurer Frank P. Glazier of Chelsea, whose failure in December, 1907, resulted in the closing of the Chelsea Savings bank, of which Glazier was the head and which had on deposit about $685,000 of state funds, was found guilty by a jury in the Ingham county circuit court of misappropriating state funds. Mr. Glazier's attorney immediately gave notice of appeal to the supreme court and he was released on $10,000 bail and given until March 8 to file a bill of exceptions and a motion for a new trial. Mr. Glazier received the verdict without emotion.

GLIMPSES OF LINCOLN

Tributes to the Martyr President's Character and Leadership.

HOW HE PARDONED A SOLDIER

L. E. Chittenden Tells in Full Story of "Lincoln and the Sleeping Sentinel"—Miracle of His Style in Speech and Writing—Homage of the People at His Funeral.

Within a few days the formal celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth will be observed. Many stories are being told about the martyr president and tributes paid to his character.

L. E. Chittenden, who was register of the treasury from 1861 to 1865 and a personal friend of Abraham Lincoln, now for the first time tells in full the story of "Lincoln and the Sleeping Sentinel," published by Harper & Bros., which has hitherto been known only in its bare outline. He speaks as one having authority, and with justice, for he bore an important share in the episode.

It was on a dark September morning in 1861, he informs us, that he was waiting on at his Washington office by a party of soldiers. They belonged to the Third Vermont regiment, then stationed at the Chain bridge, some three miles above Georgetown. One of their number, a youth of twenty-one, had fallen asleep at his post as sentinel. A hardy boy, not as yet inured to military life, he had found it impossible to keep awake for two nights in succession. He had been found by the relief sound asleep, had been convicted by a court martial and sentenced to be shot. With tears in their eyes, his comrades pleaded with Mr. Chittenden to use his influence and save the boy's life.

"He's as good a boy as there is in the army," said the leader, "and he is not to blame." Scott had never before been up all night in his life. He had been "all beat out" by his first experience. The second night he had succumbed to sheer physical exhaustion.

Mr. Chittenden's heart was touched. He determined to put young Scott in personal touch with President Lincoln. By using all his influence he succeeded.

This is how Scott himself told the story of the interview:

"The president was the kindest man I had ever seen. I never saw him at once by a Lincoln medal. I had long worn it. I was scared at first, for I had never before talked with a great man. But Mr. Lincoln was so easy with me, so gentle, that I soon forgot my fright. He asked me all about the people at home, the neighbors, the farm and where I went to school and who my schoolmates were. Then he asked me about mother and how she looked, and I was glad I could take her photograph from my bosom and show it to him. He said how thankful I ought to be that my mother still lived and how, if he was in my place, he would try to make her a proud mother and never cause her a sorrow or a tear. I cannot remember it all, but every word was so kind.

He had said nothing yet about that dreadful night morning. I thought it must be that he was so kind hearted that he didn't like to speak of it. But why did he say so much about my mother and my not causing her a sorrow or a tear when I knew that I must die the next morning? But I supposed that was something that would have to go unexplained, and so I determined to brace up and tell him that I did not feel a bit guilty and ask him wouldn't he fix it so that the firing party would not be from our regiment. That was going to be the hardest of all to die by the hands of my comrades.

Just as I was going to ask him this favor he stood up, and he says to me, "My boy, stand up here and look me in the face." I did as he bade me. "My boy," he said, "you are not going to be shot tomorrow. I believe you when you tell me that you could not keep awake. I am going to trust you and send you back to your regiment. But I have been put to a great deal of trouble on your account. I have had to come up here from Washington when I have got a great deal to do, and what I want to know is how you are going to pay my bill."

There was a big lump in my throat. I could scarcely speak. I had expected to die, you see, and had kind of got used to thinking that way. To have it all changed in a minute! But I got it crowded down and managed to say: "I am grateful, Mr. Lincoln. I hope I am as grateful as ever a man can be to you for saving my life. But it comes upon me sudden and unexpected like. I didn't lay out for it at all. But there is some way for me to pay you, and I will find it out after a little. There is the bounty in the savings bank. I guess we could borrow some money on the mortgage of the farm. There was my pay, which was something, and if he would wait until pay day, you see, that boys would help, so I thought we could make it up if it wasn't more than $500 or $600."

"But it is a great deal more than that," he said. "Then I said I didn't just see how, but I was sure I would find some way—if I lived."

Then Mr. Lincoln put his hands on my shoulders and looked into my face as if he was sorry and said: "My boy, my bill is a very large one. Your friends cannot pay it, nor your bounty, nor the farm, nor all your comrades. There is only one man in all the world who can pay it, and his name is William Scott. If from this day William Scott does his duty, so that, if I were there when he comes to die, he could look me in the face as he does now and say, 'I have kept my promise, and I have done my duty as a soldier,' then my debt will be paid. Will you make that promise and try to keep it?"

Scott did promise and did keep his promise. He soon earned the reputation of being the bravest man in his regiment, the faithfullest and the kindest. If any man were needed for the most exposed service, Scott was always eager to be called upon. If any other man was in trouble, Scott was his good Samaritan. If any soldier were sick, Scott was his willing nurse. He was ready to volunteer for any extra service or labor. Nevertheless he steadily refused promotion, saying that he had done nothing to deserve it.

The end came in March, 1862, near Yorktown. The federal forces were on one side of the James river, the Confederate on the other. General Mc-Clellan had ordered General Smith to assault and capture the works on the south bank. The Confederates, however, were too strongly entrenched. They drove their assailants back across the river. Scott was almost the first to reach the south bank, the first in the rifle pits and the last to retreat. He was carrying one of his wounded comrades across the stream when the fire of the enemy was concentrated upon him. He staggered with his living burden to the shore and fell.

"He was shot all to pieces," said an eyewitness. "We carried him back out of the line of fire and laid him on the grass to die. But his strength was great, and such a powerful man was hard to kill." They carried him to a cot in a nearby tent. Just at daylight the word was passed that Scott wanted to see all the boys. They went into his tent and stood around his cot. His face was bright and his voice cheerful.

"Boys," he said, "I will never see another battle. I supposed this would be my last. I haven't much to say. You all know what you can tell them at home about me. I have tried to do the right thing. I am almost certain you will all say that." Then, while his strength was failing, his life ebbing away, and we looked to see his voice sink into a whisper, his face lighted up and his voice came out natural and clear as he said: "If any of you ever have the chance I wish you would tell President Lincoln that I have never forgotten the kind words he said to me at the Chain bridge, that I have tried to be a good soldier and true to the flag, that I should have paid my whole debt to him if I had lived and that now, when I know that I am dying, I think of his kind face and thank him again because he gave me the chance to fall like a soldier in battle and not like a coward by the hands of my comrades."

Then he closed his eyes, crossed his hands on his breast, and that was all.

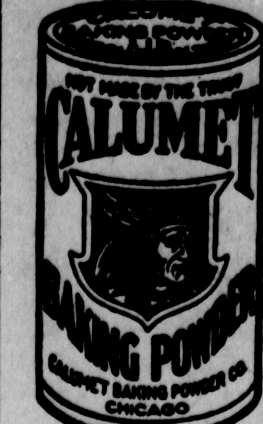

Richard Watson Gilder in his study of "Lincoln the Leader," published in the February Century, presents some interesting phases of Abraham Lincoln's character. Of his speech, writings and belief in God he says:

"Lincoln's style in speech and writing is the same sort of miracle that gave us the consummate art of Shakespeare, the uncolleged actor; of Burns, the plowman, and of Keats, the apothecary's apprentice, son of a lively stable man. It is not easy to analyze a miracle, but in discussing the leadership of Lincoln it is interesting to find certain qualities in his literary style that are traits of his character and thus elements of his leadership.

"Notwithstanding that the country has been ransacked for every record of his public speech and every scrap of paper to which he put pen, there has been found from him absolutely nothing discreditable and little that can be criticized in the way of expression. Without the aid of any teacher he early learned to be moderate and reasonable in statement, so that on the part even of the obscure young politician there is a complete absence of that kind of public speech which is described in a passage he loved to quote, where it is said of the orator that he mounted the rostrum, threw back his head, shined his eyes and left the consequences to God."

"An intensely important feature of Lincoln's leadership would be omitted if nothing were said of the effect upon his thought and conduct of his belief in and conscious communion with an almighty, mysterious and benevolent power, concerning itself not less with human affairs than with the march of seasons and the sweep of constellations. The Deity was to him an ever present, ever regnant influence. There was nothing of theology or dogmatism in his religious opinions, but he lived in the spirit. And always the belief in God was to him a challenge to singleness of purpose. To the all pure he lifted clean hands and a pure heart."

Mr. Gilder in closing his article says: "Let me close with the memory of a night of the spring of the year 1865, in the time of the blooming of lilacs, as the wonderful poem. I was waiting in Philadelphia for Lincoln's funeral train to start, as it was my duty
